

I READING

Read-At-Home Challenge

Are you up for the Read-At-Home Challenge? Here are 16 fun and exciting ways for you to enjoy reading a book at home. Your mission is to complete all 16. You can do them in any order.

Once you've completed each activity, place a checkmark in the box. Happy Reading!

<input type="checkbox"/> Outdoor Reading Pick your favorite book, grab a blanket and go get cozy outside. Try to spend at least 30 minutes enjoying a book outside.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read & Illustrate Pick any book to read. Once you have read the entire book, pretend that you are the illustrator and design a new book jacket for that book.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read and Watch Find a book or novel that has a movie based on the book. Read the book and then watch the movie. Compare and contrast the difference.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read in Bed Either first thing in the morning or right before you fall asleep at night, spend at least 30 minutes reading in bed. Bonus points if you're still in your pajamas.
<input type="checkbox"/> Flashlight Reading You might want to wait until night time for this one. Pick your favorite room, turn off all the lights. Grab a flashlight and use it to help you read a book.	<input type="checkbox"/> Phone a Friend Call or Facetime a friend or relative. Read them a poem, picture book, or share a chapter from a novel. You could even share a quote from a book you just read.	<input type="checkbox"/> Recommended Reading Ask someone in your family to recommend a book for you to read. Here is the challenge – you HAVE to read whatever they suggest.	<input type="checkbox"/> Re-Read Which picture book in your house is your absolute favorite? Even if you've already read it a million times, read and enjoy the story one more time.
<input type="checkbox"/> Reading Tent Create a reading tent somewhere in your house using blankets and sheets. Then spend at least 30 minutes reading in the tent.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read & Write Read a book. Then write either an e-mail or a real letter to the author thanking them for sharing that story with you and the rest of the world.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read to a Sibling or Stuffed Animal Do you have a little brother or sister? What about a pet or a stuffed animal. Pretend they are your students and you're the teacher. Read them one of your favorite books.	<input type="checkbox"/> Act it Out Turn your favorite book into a play. Write a script based on the book. Bonus points if you have siblings at home that can act out the play once you've written it.
<input type="checkbox"/> Are you Listening? Go to Youtube, Vooks, Epic or another online reading source and enjoy listening to someone else read a story to you.	<input type="checkbox"/> Read Something New Find something new to read. It could be a new book, a newspaper, the comics, a cookbook, or encyclopedia. It doesn't matter what it is, Just read something new.	<input type="checkbox"/> Author Study Who is your favorite author? Do a mini author study about him/her. Try to find a few books to read by that author and then do some research to learn about his/her life.	<input type="checkbox"/> Make a Video Make a video of you reading a book. It doesn't have to be fancy or perfect, just record yourself reading. Bonus points if you send it to your teacher.

30 in 30 Challenge

Read 30 minutes a day for 30 days

Are you up for the challenge? Can you read 30 minutes a day for 30 days? It doesn't matter what, when, or where you read, the goal is just to read for 30 minutes a day. You can even break it up into smaller chunks if you want. Use this sheet to keep track of your reading for the next 30 days. Good Luck! I hope you're successful with the challenge.

Day 1 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 2 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 3 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 4 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 5 Today I read for _____ minutes
Day 6 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 7 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 8 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 9 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 10 Today I read for _____ minutes
Day 11 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 12 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 13 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 14 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 15 Today I read for _____ minutes
Day 16 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 17 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 18 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 19 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 20 Today I read for _____ minutes
Day 21 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 22 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 23 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 24 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 25 Today I read for _____ minutes
Day 26 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 27 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 28 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 29 Today I read for _____ minutes	Day 30 Today I read for _____ minutes

GENRE Challenge

How many genres can you read?

There are so many great genres of books. Have you read them all? Your challenge is to explore all of the genres listed below. You can read an actual book or explore the audio or visual version online. After you have read a book for each genre, write down the title in the correct box. Try to read at least one title for each genre.

Fiction

title _____

Non-Fiction

title _____

Poetry

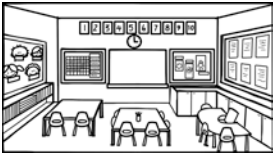

title _____

Traditional Literature

title _____

Realistic Fiction

title _____

Autobiography

title _____

Informational

title _____

Science Fiction

title _____

Adventure

title _____

Graphic Novel

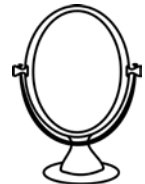

title _____

Fantasy

title _____

Memoir

title _____

Fairy Tale

title _____

Mystery

title _____

Humor

title _____

Fable

title _____

Folktale

title _____

Historical Fiction

title _____

Legend

title _____

Biography

title _____